

DIALOGUE FROM TRAILER PARK BOYS: GREASY MONEY

JULIAN (TO CAMERA)

You know, this cat training thing has been pretty fuckin' cool... At first I thought this little guy would cramp my style, but we actually get along great! I noticed that he loved batting this little jingly-ball around, and that got me thinkin'. So, I switched out the jingly-ball for a two-and-a-half-inch ball bearing... Pretty soon he was on to a bocce ball, then a five-pin bowling ball... He's workin' with a shot-put now! There's no WAY anybody else's cat looks this good. I mean, check out the definition on those haunches! You see that? You see those haunches? We've got this contest in the bag.

JULIAN

Almost time for the contest, boys. Gee Bubbles, your cat looks a little scrawny there, bud.

BUBBLES

Bull-SHIT, Julian. What's that you're holdin' under your arm there, a medicine-ball? Kitties aren't supposed to have big fuckin' TRAPS you know.

JACOB

Man, Julian, your cat looks so cool. Do you think we might win first and second place? I hope you don't mind, but I named my cat after you. Hey, how do you get Dalton's coat so shiny? Does he use the same shampoo you use? Look at that sheen... It's so awesome. Your cat's the best.

BUBBLES

Jacob, what in a flying fiddler's fuck-strap did you dye your kitty's fur for? Unbelievable. You better not start feedin' that little guy full of Feline Growth Hormone, like SOMEONE I know...

JULIAN

What the fuck is that supposed to mean?

BUBBLES

I think you know exactly what I mean, Julian. I can SEE your kitty's pulse.
